Scope

The Addison Gallery was established in 1931 by Thomas Cochran to serve as an academic museum. It is devoted to collecting American Art for students, faculty and the local community to enjoy. In 2008, the gallery was closed for extensive renovations. To maintain the authenticity of the building design, Knoll and various ancillary furniture manufacturers were used throughout the space. The furniture, also, integrates with the specialty maple veneer on the interior walls of museum seamlessly.
